MUD HOLLOW

By the Late DR. SIMON N. PATTEN

The first scientific novel of the future—based on the New Psychology. “The road from conformity to freedom: not the seen but the felt, not color but joy, not fact but emotion, not beauty but action, not madonnas but corn-fed girls.”

Shocking! Startling! But—more than all—sublime. MUD HOLLOW is searing in its attack upon bad American complexes which the X-ray of modern psychology reveals. It is the spirit of Simon N. Patten,—insurgent to the last.

N. Y. Evening Post: The reader “will not hesitate to place it on the same shelf as his Bible.”

Boston Transcript: “Cleverly analytical—likely to provoke debate.”

N. Y. Sun: “A document of prairie civilization as well as ‘Main Street’ or ‘Poor White.’”
